Sittin' in a Restaurant She walked By
I seem to recall that certain look in your eye
I asked "who's that? "you said with a smile
"Oh it's Nobody....Nobody."

Well maybe that explains the last two week
You called me up, dead on your feet
Working late again, I ask who with
You say "Nobody.....Oh Nobody."

Well your Nobody called today
She hung up when I asked her name
Well I wonder does she think she's being clever?
(clever.....ooh ooh)
You say Nobody's after you
The fact is what you say is true
But I can love you like Nobody caneven better

Late last night we went for a ride
You were miles away I asked "who's on your mind?"
You said , "Nobody..Nobody. Why do you ask?"
Oh, Her again I could have told you that.

We went back home got ready for bed
I said to myself I've got one shot left
Your still mine an I won't stand in line
Behind Nobody....Oh Nobody!

Well your Nobody called today
She hung up when I asked her name
Well I wonder does she think she's being clever?
(clever.....ohh ohh)
You say Nobody's after you
The fact is what you say is true
But I can Love you like Nobody can.....even better.
