One day while sitting in my room you came in preaching your words predicting doom You've never once been happy with me, because I not what you want me to be...No!

You tried to teach me
to pray and go to school
You tried to teach me
to be the system's tool
But you missed
What I was smart enough to see that their system doesn't work for you or me

Oh... Don't believe what they say is true Oh... Their system doesn't work for you Oh... You can be what you want to be Oh... Don't have to choose to join the corporate army

For god and country give up your life, Don't try to figure out what's wrong or right you never tried to stop, to look, to see that you're exactly what you're told to be

You did everything fucking right you followed the system's guiding light And now you bitch to me to fucking get a job when you don't like the life you've got

Don't have to choose to join their corporate army X2
Your choice...X8
