You know I can't forget
When I saw the last
The bright red dress
And the yellow sash
The cold blew in
With past that day
I left my body and never came back

It was in my tenth grade year
When I lost my love
She told me that she'd had enough
The cold blew in
And it burned the day
I left my body and never returned
Left my body and never returned

When your watch your baby
Become a lady
And you cry but -----(?) him
You'll get a chance again

I brought an open heart
And a big bouquet
The perfect gift
For a summer day
You'll never know
When you'll become a man
I left that flower and never came back
Left that flower and never came back

When your watch your baby
Become a lady
And you cry but -----(?) him
You'll get a chance again

Oh, Oh, Oh
Oh, Oh, Oh
Oh, Oh, Oh
Oh, Oh, Oh

And you watch your baby

Become a lady
And you cry but maybe
She'll get a chance to save me

Every time she kissed me
She became my history
I would kill to try again
I'll get a chance again
