

Flames In "Colony"

in my world, the day is no threat in my world, there is an absence of light "genetic superiour cell" controled by fathomless and undearable a radical new form of plastic and rage biologically optomized but with a strangling pulse iin your world, you find me worthy in my world, I "parashoot" my life a virtual drogstore populated by the fathomless and unbearable machine, meat and blood in an intimate relationship the new - superior - more effective than all the preceeding where we can no longer cry and reality is torn then itÂ´s easy to forget that the responsibillity lies on us all in your world, the night is no threat in my world, the darkness transforms to a vision of hell populated by fathomless and unbearable
