Your body is like book in school
You use it when you give it back
When you're though
Some people write on every page
Some don't write anything and that's OK
I always left my mark on the books at school
So it's no wonder I hate tattoos

It only hurts a little bit
A week to heal and then it's all over with
It only hurts for just a sec
But then it stops when your endorphines
Kick in
Don't let a little pin-prick scare you away
If you have balls, then you can take it

Tats are addictive. That's what they say
So don't get one might as well get two
Right away
Decorate your body. It's not a sin.
It's good to have a work of art on your skin
And you can carry it with you for the rest of your life
No one can take away your tattoos
And your pride
