Better run, run; better run, run; better run; better run, run from Lucy...

Frozen angel melting from the burning sky
Wings are wilting as the blood drips from her eyes
Time is chasing her as she tries to forget
Love's escaping her; there's nothing right that's left

She is chasing all she knows is gone
Her world has turned from light to grey You're escaping but, she's holding on
You should run, before you wanna stay

Better run, run from Lucy...

Every footstep leaves an echo from her past
As she hopes to outshine fate before it's cast
Falling faster as the night turns into day
Reaching higher but, the sky throws her away

Better run, run from Lucy...
