Sounds like a scene

Right from the silver screen

Yeah thats how it was Love doesnt always look like a picture perfect story book

Oh but sometimes it does

Standing beside her

The stars shine even brighter

For a moment all the world was, all the world was still

I knew we belonged together the moment my eyes met hers

I thought nothing lasts forever

But maybe this one will

(chorus)

a deep breath and baby steps thats how the whole thing starts its a long slow beautiful dance to the beat of a heart the world starts to spin again youre loving things you didnt love then it feels like the bloom is off the rose you weather a few storms and you pulled out a few thorns

And together the garden, it grows and grows

(chorus)

to the beat of a heart

its a long slow beautiful dance my friend the house is filled with so much love we've got more than enough for two so weve been thinking about having a baby i know it sounds crazy but it seems like the natural thing to do

(chorus)

to the beat of a heart
