Lyrics: Allen

Today I've seen the shallow face I wear
Inside this shell, a living hell endures
I'm held captive by my fear, decaying hope and wasted years
The knife of time carves another line around these eyes
Good and evil - lust primeval
Dragging me into a sea of lies
Losing faith in who I am

Never changing just rearranging my life again
Through into an eternal abyss I fall,
Silent screams through paper walls
I pray someday the sun will shine on me again
(shine on me again)
Good and evil - lust primeval
Dragging me into a sea of lies
Lies...lies...
SOLO
Lies...lies...
