"The Sacrifice"

Your Eyes singing to me sweet lullabies
While you lay there in submission
Forbidden desire
Alone in the moonlight hearts afire
Burn away our inhibitions

When the stars lose their fire
And night steals the morning away
Forever and the day
I will stay, I will stay here with you my love

Sacrifice a heart beat away from paradise
All my reasons given way to temptation
Fear and shame
Looking for someone else to blame
We're devoured by these foolish accusations

With every fleeting breath I take
Maybe a love was a mistake
Eternal life I traded for one moment beside you

When the stars lose their fire
And night steals the morning away
Forever and the day

I will stay, I will stay here with you my love

When the stars lose their fire
And night steals the morning away
Forever and the day

When the stars lose their fire
And night takes the morning away
Forever and the day
I will stay, I will stay here with you my love
