i know your feeling down because she broke your heart dont think that its the end you just gotta try and start over with someone somoene whos gonna care care about the way you feel when no one else is there but you gotta be patient because love takes sometime and you always gotta be on gaurd cause true love is so hard to find never know who or were how or why when the woman you've been waiting for is right before your eyes chorus and whenever your lonely you can call on me cause i promise to be there until eternity if the mountains may faLL or the sun refuses to shine ill be with you through it all and whenever you hold me i get a rush inside you could tell by my touch that i just cant hide the way i feel about you just feels so right baby i will never leave your side so open up your eyes and let your mind free what you been searchin for is all thats got in me so dont you be afraid cause i wont let you down sweet love and honesty in you ive finally found ill be your fantasy ill be your dreams at night dont ever have a doubt cause the feeling is oh so right to have you here with me its like your heaVEN sent and since you been with me Life doubted you ever since
