I've been waiting for love like this forever forever could love make this right forever forever maybe moment look I close my eyes I think about is you six ok moment on touching me feeling so brand new I remember when you look into my eye sent to you love me took me by surprise sometime how you play me again tonight again

I've been waiting for love like this forever forever
could love make this right forever forever
I've been waiting for love like this forever forever
could love make this right forever forever

I've been waiting for your love

You taught to ever fallen love again hurt me want that for believe all this time you the one I need I been longing for I remember when you look into my eyes since you love me you took me by surprise
sometime how you play me again
tonight again
