Uh, it was a long long crucial winter, for us to carry on,
it was a long long brutal summer, for a fever won

When every beat on your drum is wasted and every song that you sing is too late and every word is a hesitation, feel no shame

For you have achieved more than you have forsaken, oh yeah
and you believed that it took you to glaces, that's said

and every word is a hesitation, you did it great uuh uh ah aah ah you did it great

Every beat on your drum is wasted
and every song that you sing is too late Every beat on your drum is wasted, no shame

Every beat on your drum is wasted and every song that you sing is the same and every word is a hesitation, oh, you did it again and again
