

Embodied, The "Relativity Fade"

Visit "Relativity Fade" on MotoLyrics.com vision stained in a stone, get a hold of a heart to stay away from never exit the room, always holding the key were you live your life once a open mind, now afraid of the time open up your fist rest your eyes for a while, you're about to see things you've never seen before forgot the feeling of love, got a taste of a tear running from your eye always keeping the pace, want a touch of the wind to stroke your face darkness covers your chest, too afraid to try to give something back memories of life, that you desire the most close to your heart feel a chill in your spine, when someones holding your hand holding on too tight no one is giving you hope, just a empty room with a thousand lights rising smoke underneath, from a hole in the ground not afraid to fall writing signs on the wall, with the blood from your mouth

it never seems to end

Touch my eyes, die alone And sleep in the ashes of the dead Crawling trough, the unknown You'll never fall asleep again

Visit Embodied, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.