Last try

His visions taking over
Majestic lies and words of sorrow
She will make him stop prevail
It's time for him to set sail
Towards the weak

His smile is stunning
His eyes are burning

Face the truth
Angels have their watchful eye
The contrast is like black and white
Rise and fall
That's what happens in time
Their last word is their chance to survive

She is one of them
In the army of lost and damned
She's been put into misery
Not able to see the horizon
Revenge gives her strength
An anchor tied around her neck
Sinks her down

Her name is chosen
Her lips are frozen

Face the truth
Angels have their watchful eye
The contrast is like black and white
Rise and fall
That's what happens in time
Their last word is their chance to survive

Their hands are bruised
Their eyes are sewn
They have no clue of what they are
They are sinking down "Â"
Through solid ground

Everyone sees what they are

Of what
I can see
They are lost
In between

Face the truth
Angels have their watchful eye
The contrast is like black and white
Rise and fall
That's what happens in time
Their last word is their chance to survive
