Women, get up
It's time to live a little, it's time to lighten it up
Limousines, yes
Could you please wear a shorter dress?
Compromise, no
It's time to live a little, it's time to let it all go
And I hope you don't care how we feel out there
And I hope you don't know what we're talking about
I don't even bother to stay, already on my way
Women, give up
Destroy the evidence, even police are corrupt
Money's fine, yes
We will settle for nothing less
Compromise, no
This time we'll stand, we'll never, we gotta let it all go
And I hope you don't care, how we feel out there
And I hope you don't know
Well
All we really want is someone to ignore us
'Cause all we ever get are people who control at us
So please watch what you say in this conversation
'Cause desperation is our inspiration
Yeah, why do we even bother to say
We should be on our way now
Now, now, now
All we want is for someone to ignore us
'Cause I'll we ever get are people who control at us
Please watch what you say in this conversation
Because desperation is our inspiration
