Remember when you were a schoolgirl, schoolgirl
When we played love games like children do.
And in some games I used to pull your hair
And other games at your house with no one there.

Schoolgirl, schoolgirl; those loveletters that you
handed to me
Schoolgirl, schoolgirl; early Mondays and Sundays for tea
I must have been a fool not to fall for you when you were a schoolgirl

Remember when you were a schoolgirl, schoolgirl
Those holidays when I showed you what I had.
Remember when your mother caught us there,
My father kept me in for being bad!

Schoolgirl, schoolgirl; those loveletters that you
handed to me
Schoolgirl, schoolgirl; early Mondays and Sundays for
tea
were a schoolgirl.
