I lost myself on the road, to your door
Dont wanna see you no more is all I heard, as I left
Its something else I was led to believe
Cant talk about it is what was said, so I fled

I, had turned to stone, with your love
I was BORN
Born to be in love with you

Still looking out for a new higher way
But lost horizons show their place, on your face
Weve come so far, and our spirits are strong
Forever lost in love, we are BORN

I, had turned to stone and with your love
I was BORN
Born to be in love
