"World Hello Day"

keep on pretending
an artificial trick spread magis sparks enjoy this happy hour brighten your wrinkled face hope you won't get tired of smiling such a fascinating scene nevermind our greedy sights what an ache this state could bring that which slowly disappears architects of better future seemingly so fragile staff no hidden cameras at all call and win - don't dare to think some things they're not destined to last as we brought those fires can't stand this immense tension wish I could step out from this hurt a madcap show systematic acts heroes of new age

stuck in global distaste second hand motions false feelings' trade surprised & staggered construction slowly breaks on and on - in endless search our souls are rotten to the core just a joker from a box ingenious puppet dance feel the heat is on celebrate world hello day
