Hung up on Meant to be
Protecting me
The emptiness
Is hindering
My self control
Pinned upon my fucking life
I'm burdened with
The hollowness
You my friend
A lifeless being Solitude
in 12:16

A replica to tear away
So eager to
To imitate
A guardian
Protecting me
Deliberately
Look away
A guardian will turn on me
Unraveling
Beneath the rain
Left alone
I'll be ok
On my own
In the cold
Underneath the fucking storm

Something else
Never seen
But always here
Protecting me
A fucking waste
Of belief
Living with no sense of faith
A shaded face
Of discontent
It never meant
I didn't trust
Just skeptical

Of spectacles
That never seem to have a use
I'm the one
Who's suffering
Who's losing out
Who pad the price
Nothing short
Of blasphemy

The things that make or kill a dream
Standing here
Nothing's changed
It's always been
About the one
Who's never real
Abandon me
And be the one who runs away

As far as I can see you're hollow
And living empty

NEVER
Can I ever bring this back to life
FEEL
We'll both lay down together forever
AN ABSENCE
Of all that seems to make these things real
SOMETHING
Please come dare to take me away
