You were a rocker and thats what got her attention but now youre wearing polos tucked into jeans shes always whining honey why cant you spend more money and more time hanging out with all my friends and me and I dont know why you let her walk all over you and I dont know why you wont let me take her out for you
What if I what if I what if I punched you Girlfriend what if I what if I what if I punched your girlfriend then would you rock with me.
Your friends all hate her you promise to call them later but you dont cause shes always right there checking up on you youre always complaining about how shes draining you but you go running right back to her
And I dont know why you let her walk all over you and I dont know why you wont let me take her out for you
What if I what if I what if I punched you girlfriend
what if I what if I what if I punched your girlfriend
then would you rock with me
And I dont know why you let her walk all over you and I dont know why you wont let me take her out for you
What if I what if I what if I punched your girlfriend what if I what if I punched you girlfriend then would you rock with me
