I don't know what to think, i'm so unsure.
I don't know anything, anything anymore.
And i don't want your drunken kisses,
I don't want your stolen promises.

Everything i do, it all leads back to you.
You're standing there infront of me on my doorstep.
Everything i am and everything i'll be,
it's always you and me.

I'm always looking for something else.
I'm always searching for, searching for myself.
I locked up all my memories and hid them away.
Blinked back all the tears i've cried, that's where they will stay.
And i don't want your drunken kisses,
I don't want your stolen promises.

Everything i do, it all leads back to you.
You're standing there infront of me on my doorstep.
Everything i am and everything i'll be,
it's always you and me.
And you and her and her and you and me
Everything i do, it all leads back to you.
You're standing there infront of me on my doorstep.
Everything i am and everything i'll be,
You chose her over me.
