By Karen Brooks and Randy Sharp

Come to me when her lies have broken love down

Come to me when your heart is no longer bound

Come to me and know you'll never be lonely

If you'll only

Come to me

Take these dreams of mine and make them come true

Take my word no one can love you more than I do

Take my hand and know you'll never be lonely

If you'll only

Come to me

Come to me

Careless love is at best unfair

Heartache lies in wait for you there

Come to me

When the truth finally opens your eyes

When her touch can't make up for the lies

Come to me

Come to me

Come to me when your tears have no place to fall

Come to me when you're there with no reason at all

Don't hold on to the one who's making you lonely
You need only
Come to me
Oh come to me
Careless love is at best unfair
Heartache lies in wait for you there
Come to me
When the truth finally opens your eyes
When her touch can't make up for the lies
Come to me
Come to me
Come to me when your tears have no place to fall
Come to me when you're there with no reason at all
Why hold on to the one who's making you lonely
You need only
Come to me
Come to me
Come to me
