Moonlight fills my soul like a frozen lake

Let it be for you that my tears descend

Let it break for you if my heart must break

I would crawl every mile to fall into your arms and feel
all of the passion

Let me walk in the fields, drink the water from the well,
be my lover man.

I would crawl every mile to fall into your arms and feel
all of the passion

Let me walk in the fields, drink the water from the well,
be my lover man.

Lover man, lover man...

You could say our love changes now and then

Never say, never say, never say our love is gone

I would crawl every mile to fall into your arms and feel all of the passion (passion inside...)

Let me walk in the fields, drink the water from the well,
be my lover man.

Lover man...
