"Comin' Home"

Don't try to teach me, how to act,
I don't need a teacher, and that's a fact,
I take comfort from simple things,
I get nervous with a stranger in my dreams.

It ain't a lot to ask, I don't live too fast, I need a life to call my own

Let it slide, come along for the ride,
You can help to satisfy my troubled mind
But if you try to hold me or tie me down Well I just don't need it, I'll survive alone.

It ain't a lot to ask, I don't live too fast, I need a life to
call my own
I love your company, I want you near to me, cuz you reach inside my soul.

So I, I'm coming home, I'm comin home, I'm comin
home
Cuz I'm tired of bein on the road

I get inspiration, from penetration,
But I can live without it, It ain't everything.
We can take some moonlight, and a little wine,
We could just talk for a while, I ain't an unreasonable man

It ain't a lot to ask, I don't live too fast, I need a life to
call my own
I love your company, I want you near to me, cuz you
reach inside my soul.

So I, I'm coming home, I'm comin home, I'm comin
home
Don't wanna live on my own

I'm coming home, alright
I'm comin home, yeah
I'm comin home, cuz i'm tired of bein alone
I'm comin home, and I feel good about it

I'm comin home, cuz I've been on the road too long
