Our time as slipped away
And there's nothing more
But a love I can't replace And this cold hard floor your turning, im burning
as you fan the flame.
this rejections your possession
was it all in vain

I feel like I'm falling from grace
I can see it on your face
I feel like I'm losing my place
And i'm left with all the rage

I guess it's not that bad Since nothing can compare To the only thing i've had That's left but still it's here

your turning, im burning
as you fan the flame.
this rejections your possession
was it all in vain

I feel like I'm falling from grace
I can see it on your face
I feel like I'm losing my place
And i'm left with all the rage

I feel like I'm falling from grace
I feel like I'm falling from grace

I feel like I'm falling from grace
I can see it on your face
I feel like I'm losing my place
As i'm left with all the rage
