* Be Alright (Nicolay's Easybreezy Sunday Afternoon Remix) has the same lyrics [Phonte] I know, I know how it can be sometimes When you feel like, y'knahmsayin like Y'know when you feel like there's nobody you can turn to or when it's Shit start getting real out here I know how it feels man, we can identify with that shit for real Let y'all know it's gonna be ok y'knahmean? It's gonna be aight for real... Aiiyyo, as time passes I'm just keeping the faith Composing my thoughts and rearranging my place People ask, I just tell 'em I'm straight My girl was throwing up this morning I'm praying it was something she ate Feeling pains in my torso now I scream fuck the world but mother-nature's taking autho' now Tryna regulate her stress and pain also now This life hurts a little more so now But I'm still holding on y'all, for real [Chorus: Frank Ford] The pain that you know, the evil you see I got a feeling that we're gonna be alright Everything's gonna be alright, ooh [Median] I can feel the sun shining, no stress, I'm so blessed No regrets, I am my past and my path Has guided me inside of me Placed me in spots where tracks beat and cats be so hungry It's so funny, I won a race against millions Twenty-three years ago, the builders flow Over beats from a cat overseas Exposed to the League, it's so peace and so deep So all minds can question the signs and crass ways Of these last days, it just happens that way Divine designs of life balanced that way The trend surface and it all blends perfect [Chorus: Frank Ford] {X2} [Frank Ford] {X4} Baby no you don't have to worry Baby no you don't have to worry about me [Phonte overlaps] Uh, yeah, for all my peoples Frankie vocals, people hustling worldwide y'knahmsayin? Uh huh It's gonna be aight y'all, just keep holding on [Chorus: Frank Ford] [Phonte continues to overlap] From me to you, for you and yours The Justus League to the world baby It's like this y'all, come on Just keep your head up, it's gon' be aight for real I've been through that, I've through all of that It's gonna alright, y'knahmsayin? For real
