C. Stephenson/ M. Peterson)

Here I am driving down the streets in my car

I wave to all my friends that I never met before

I pass the peaceman whose siren plays the most beautiful song

The horizon ahead and beyond is a beautiful painting of eternal green light

No stopping, complete freedom

Green Light

Green Light Street

From all colors of the spectrum into smile the lights run eternally ecstatic as you pass by

Ready and waiting only there as a greeting

Traffic signals, the mind of us all.

Occasionally the matter encounters red,

but as a rainbow washes by and turns greens

What do you hear
