Hello everybody

When you listen to these words

Just remember they were written by us

And they have always been around

Where have the notes come from

And the words and the people and the instruments

They lay embedded in the source

Just remember they have been around forever

Coming straight out of time

To share this space with you

This wave caress carries the transmission

Of intangible truth

Just remember me and you

The garden the TV

Looking into itself and seeing me

Sometimes asking why and not really caring

Sometimes passion time

Time times in dimension

Change time in finding new time's eternal

Like multiplying something

Like adding forever

Memories of us

Just remember me and you
