dear friend you ran away so fast did you get where you wanted or did running in circles swallow you whole or did you run without thinking again you're running on empty and you've lost the things you need you come to me for help and reject my advice i'm tired of this cycle i'm tired of this tired cycle i used to think i knew you well but now i dont't know you at all you now enjoy the things you once condemned i want to let you know i miss you lost friend i know that this isn't over i'm praying for you dear friend i hope you find what you've been looking for and realize it's all nothing without him
