You might as well just burn it to the ground the damage is done, and yes you've won.
I can't believe, just what you're saying
Is there any just corse for all your praying

Burn the Bridges before they're even built
Don't judge before you see
You've just burnt your only bridges
Your ignorance you have to see to believe

Your words are wearing thin You're such a, dick head and I don't know where to begin Fast to judge other people But you're, in the slow lane when it comes to your self

Burn the Bridges before they're even built
Don't judge before you see
You've just burnt your only bridges
