Say anything. Anything, anything and I won't hate you

Say stupid things, silly things, Ridiculous things and I won't laugh

You like to hear yourself talk

But I love you big mouth or not

You say things in Crowds that you don't know shit about

But I'll stand by you

You need to add two cents to everybody's arguments

I'll lend you the change

Devil's advocate, You've got manners to learn just yet

But I know they're just words and they don't mean much

Say things you know are crazy I won't be offended

You can share what you're thinking out loud

'Cause that's what we're all about

You can say anything the strangest things outrageous things

And I won't tease you

You have theories I do not understand

But I have faith

When you're bluffing I can tell

'Cause baby I know you so well

But I know they're just words and they don't mean much

Say things you know are crazy I won't be offended

You can share what you're thinking out loud

'Cause that's what we're all about

You can be rude and crass

Someday boy they're gonna kick your ass

But I know they're just words and they don't mean
much

Can't believe what I just heard I just have to laugh

Sometimes baby, your head's in the clouds

But that's what you're all about and that's what we're all about
