Don't close your eyes or I might drift away
Under the night my image bends it's shape
I'll be written on the wind like you never set a street
Heading for the moon

I reach out (echoes) My pulse begins to race (echoes)
The crashing sounds are fears I never faced Let them echo off these waves without us, brave as they once were
Heading for the moon

Oh look how we ride over the white
And shadows they chase from behind
But just put them out of your mind
Oh heading for the moon

Don't close your eyes or I might drift away
Under the night of never ending shapes
I'll be wishing of the blue
I'll still wanna send my stars
Heading for the moon

Oh look how we ride over the white
Shadows they chase from behind
But just put them out of your mind
Oh heading for the moon oh heading for the moon

Over the white
And shadows they chase from behind
But just put them out of your mind
Heading for the moon
