All over town the bars are closing down
One by one the lights grow dim
I've been sitting here drinking
Thinking about you out somewhere with him

He's just one of the many men you've tried
Still you tell me you ain't satisfied
If you want love don't go to strangers

I've seen you out on the prowl like this Night after night after night
Looking for love but you settle for a kiss
And unknown arms to hold you tight

But it seems no matter what you do
It never turns out like you wanted it to
You wanted love, real true love
If you want love don't go to strangers

Every night I have this dream
You're gonna wake up and understand
That all the love you've been looking for
Is right here in your hand, oh, my love

How many nights you're gonna lay down your sweet love
To someone you don't really want?
Can't you see you'd be happy with me?
I'd be much more than your confidant

All's I'm the one you tell your troubles to You told me everything but I love you
Oh, my love, true love
If you want some love go to strangers
