Oh, what my luck the game that I played
I'll duck for cover when you call out my name
And oh la la la, unravel your chain
'Cause I won't touch ya, ya burning flame

You've seen all of me and I know
That all the riches come and go
There's something I need you to know

So quit askin' me, no, no more
Can't you see, tonight I won't fall

If you follow that same awkward game
There's nothing to gain you will find, oh yeah
Some day I'll explain it's fact, I did it again yeah

When your heart skips a beat, silence be afraid
I'm loving the heat, honey, I got the rest of time
And I feel oh so good like I should and I know
Time is frozen, bound and broken promises are cheap

So, quit askin' me, no, no more
Can't you see tonight I won't fall

If you follow that same awkward game
There's nothing to gain you will find, oh yeah
Some day I'll explain it's fact, I did it again yeah

If you count all the stars you'll find
You'll lose all your sleep
So don't waste all your time
Pretending you can

Well, I'm taking back all that your stealin'
'Cause I don't nothing your dealin'
Sorry not sleeping, I'm leaving
Memory coming back creeping
