Light begins where shadows ends

that's the law on which this world depends it's a law that you just broke in two.

If I must stand aside and watch your colours fade

if I must close my eyes then I will pray that I can watch the sun go down with you and watch it come back up in heavens blue.

You you - you are the real one

you you - you are the rising sun

you you - you touch inside of me

you make me feel that I've never been touched before (by anyone).

I got a heart that needs repair

I got a heart that burns to care

I guess it's time I let my feelings show.
I guess I wanna watch the sun go down with you

and watch it come back up in heavens blue.

You you - you are the real one

you you - you are the real one
