About a year ago
We were inseparable
We had a fight or two
But not to end it all
Until your boys came crashing through
They said they came to rescue you
And they took you out
Got you really drunk
Came back to my house
Said you met the one
Some girl you made out with for fun
Now Im just looking at you stunned

Like you must have lost your mind
You were laying with the next girl in line
While Im at home just I
Now you want to apologize
But you were laying with the next girl in line
So go sleep with your boys tonight
Go sleep with your boys tonight

I tried to think if I was being difficult
I couldnt bring myself
To try and shake it off
After all of the time we spent
You couldnt help it one last bit
Im here on my own

if its really true that you met the one
I cant accept apologies
What are you doing here with me?

Like you must have lost your mind
You were laying with the next girl in line
While Im at home just I
Now you want to apologize
But you were laying with the next girl in line
So go sleep with your boys tonight
Go sleep with your boys tonight

Like you must have lost your mind
You were laying with the next girl in line
While Im at home just I
Now you want to apologize
But you were laying with the next girl in line
So go sleep with your boys tonight

Im the only one thats crazy here for the moment
So you realize what youve just said to me
Dont change your mind in the morning
There are other things more important
Than just you and me

And oooh

Like you must have lost your mind
You were laying with the next girl in line
While Im at home just I
Now you want to apologize
But you were laying with the next girl in line
So go sleep with your boys tonight
