they crack you like a paper plane raked you through your only world alone pick you up to pull you down and i've gone something to fall back on it takes a man to pierce himself
rid of your teeth, your whipping post this is just the long way home

when i breathe for you
it's only cause i'm happy
it's only cause i'm happy to you very well, you're a sinking ship a modern vessel filled with modern sails and gold all along i'm coming down pick them both up blood blood martyr it takes a man to test himself

they will follow you around this world never let you disappear

when i breathe for you

this world
this world
this world
this world
this world
this world
this world

we have visions of times
we are picking your prize
we are looking for signs of life here

blood blood martyrs
