You Do Something To Me
Doris Day
Written by Cole Porter

She sang it in the 1951 film "Starlift" but did not chart it as a single

In 1930 it was a # 13 for Leo Reisman

Introduced by William Gaxton in the musical "Fifty Million Frenchmen"

Sung in 3 other films: by Jane Wyman in "Night and Day" (1946); dubbed by Gogi Grant in "The Helen Morgan Story" (1957); and by Louis Jordan in "Can Can" (1960)

You do something to me
Something that simply mystifies me
Tell me, why should it be
You have the power to hypnotize me

Let me live 'neath your spell
You do that voodoo that you do so well

For you do something to me
That nobody else could do.

Let me live 'neath your spell
You do that voodoo that you do so well

For you do something to me
That nobody else could do

That nobody else could do

TRANSCRIBER'S NOTE You is sung by most artists (and I checked on Jack Jones and Frank Sinatra) as "DO do that voodoo." However, this is Doris' version and I have absolutely no doubt that she sings "You".
