What's the point in this denyin'
I can read through all your lies
Say you don't care enough for cryin'
But those ain't raindrops in your eyes

You'll miss me woncha
My memory will hauntcha
Cause you love me,
D-d-d-d-d-d-d-doncha

I know you're tryin' not to show it
You look away, look away, into the night
But girl, a guy like me just knows it
When you squeeze my hand just a little too tight

You'll miss me, woncha
My memory will hauntcha
Cause you love me,
D-d-d-d-d-d-d-doncha

Well-a well-a well-a,
I never should have called you
Called you pretty baby
Never should have called you back
We never should have danced that slow dance
Romance starts like that
Well-a well-a well-a,
I should have seen the signs all the time comin' on
Cut it off before it got this far
But don't blame me
All I ever really wanted
Was take you for a ride in my car

I should have felt the way you missed me
And your hungry fingertips
I should have known it when you kissed me
It was more than lips on lips

You'll miss me, woncha
My memory will hauntcha
Cause you love me,

D-d-d-d-d-d-d-doncha

Well-a well-a well-a,
I never should have called you
Called you pretty baby
Never should have called you back
We never should have danced that slow dance
Romance starts like that
Well-a well-a well-a,
I should have seen the signs all the time comin' on
Cut it off before it got this far
But don't blame me
All I ever really wanted
Was take you for a ride in my car

I may have whispered that "I love you"
But I never said I wouldn't need you
Cause there's a lot I guess I told you
With the heat of passion up my sleeve

You'll miss me, woncha
My memory will hauntcha
Cause you love me,
D-d-d-d-d-d-d-doncha

You'll miss me, woncha
My memory will hauntcha
Cause you love me,
D-d-d-d-d-d-d-doncha
D-d-d-d-d-d-d-doncha
