We went down to the southern side
We tried and we tried to find you
No mountains like you said We checked the breakfasts
'n' beds
But nobody seemed to know you

Where did you go?
Southern comfort
You came up north so on and so forth
Yea the cold weather must have killed you
Where did you go?
Southern comfort
You came up north so on and so forth
Yea the cold weather must have killed you

So why did I have to say
That everything would be the same
If you, lived, up north with me

No way no ma'am I ain't gonna quit
As soon as youre back yea then we can split
Watch Driving Miss Daisy a hundred times
Drink our ice tea with lemons and limes
The weathers even better than I thought it'd be Come on southern comfort come back to me

Where did you go?
Southern comfort
You came up north so on and so forth
Yea the cold weather must have killed you
Where did you go?
Southern comfort
You came up north so on and so forth
Yea the cold weather must have killed you

So why did I have to say
That everything would be the same
If you, lived, up north with me

Where did you go?
Southern comfort

You came up north so on and so forth
Yea the cold weather must have killed you
Where did you go?
Southern comfort
You came up north so on and so forth
Yea the cold weather must have killed you
Cold weather must have killed you
The cold weather must have killed you
