I've spent time designing her inside my mind.
Someone please point to a place this boy may find
Exactly what he's living for.
Indeed, she's strong, brilliant with eyes
But until her there's just no knowing
What I'll do to understand.

Where's Your Atmosphere?
Am I even close now?
Where's your atmosphere?
Am I even close now?

Eyes up, in the season with the leaves.
They crawl around inside with colors,
Each one unlike the other.
But together they make the fall.
I want to fall in love right now.
Could you follow me home somehow?

Where's Your Atmosphere?
Am I even closer now?
Where's your atmosphere?

They can't own the space you've grown into,
See now I always dream about the way you'll look
and the things that we may do.
But let's not make this carry on.
Let's not make this carry on...

Where's your atmosphere?
May I come inside?
May I come inside...your atmosphere?
