I look at my reflection
Time to come clean
Starting to find some Meaning here

If honesty is in me
It's worth letting out
Cause I cannot escape myself
That is clear, So clear

Let go, need to change my point of view
The truth is in your eyes
I gotta see through the little white lies
Let go, need to change my point of view
The truth is in your eyes
I gotta see through the little white lies

Always got a reason
Reason in doubt
Never take the time to hear you out
We just cant repeat the same old story like we always do
We can error on the side of truth something's breaking through

Let go, need to change my point of view
The truth is in your eyes
I gotta see through the little white lies
Let go, need to change my point of view
The truth is in your eyes
I gotta see through the little white lies

No more inconsistencies
No more in between
I'll stick to what I know is right
Battle insecurities
Challenge this hypocrisy
Until I find a way to just

Let go, need to change my point of view
The truth is in your eyes

I gotta see through the little white lies
Let go, need to change my point of view
The truth is in your eyes
I gotta see through the little white lies
