I wonder if you know
I wonder if you're feeling
The change
I can't help myself I'm falling
I'm going weaker at the knees
And I need to know you feel this way
I need to hear it please
Will love grow in my garden
Will love grow in my garden
Love is wild and love is precious
A flowering seed
It feels the air with madness
Love is all it needs
A nourishment of tenderness
That blossoms to the touch
Flaunts a devastating beauty
That can haunt a life so much
Will love grow in my garden
Will love grow in my garden
By the gentlest of fingers I will nurture Care for you
Seek the sweetest shade of sunlight kissed
By early morning dew
Keep a never ending vigil
Out of sight of all but one
Will love grow in my garden
Will love grow in my garden
