"Acquired Taste"

It's twelve AM, I'm vandalizing your mind with my poetry
I climbed in your window, up two floors just to yank out the wiring,
Walk out your front door

Cause I am the villain
The antagonist
When you give me innocence I clench my fists
And scream what must I do to get into your face
Ya see, I'm not loved by everyone
I'm an acquired taste

I hide in the shadows, I pull up the floors
You never know where I'll be better lock your doors
Everyone has a fear, different from the rest
Be careful who you trust, they can hurt you the best

Cause I am the villain
The antagonist
When you give me innocence I clench my fists
And scream what must I do to get into your face
Ya see, I'm not loved by everyone
I'm an acquired taste
