I Should've heard my voice say
"HEY!, It's time to leave",
But I watched them tear down the show

It's just me in this empty auditorium and the silence is ushering me to leave.

If this is all I am given,
Then I will stay till the job is finished,
And there will be no tears,
when its clear to say the end,
Until the music stops I will listen,
Until the music stops I will listen,

And this morning I will brace myself for what is coming my way,
And I know the pain will be more than I can estimate,
I'll tell myself I took a wrong turn on the right day,
It's ok if you can't stay

If this is all I am given,
Then I will stay till the job is finished,
And there will be no tears,
when its clear to say the end,
Until the music stops I will listen,
Until the music stops I will listen...

And is if this is all I am given,
Then I will stay till the job is finished,
And there will be no tears,
when its clear to say the end,
Until the music stops I will listen,
Until the music stops I will listen...
