Hotel rooms, night after night
Forget where I am, most of the time
When I want a break a chance to unwind, I know
Tomorrow comes whether I do or don't mind

Friendly faces to meet and greet
Then the clock strikes twelve, sad I have to leave
Return back to the carriage and drive
Tomorrow comes whether I do or don't mind

Whether I do or don't mind
Whether I do or don't mind
What tomorrow has for me to find
Will come whether I do or don't mind

You call me up and say you miss me
I wanna have my cake and eat it selfishly
Every day I choose to roll the dice
To see which road of these will lead to paradise if love had a way to stop time, wouldn't that be nice but tomorrow comes whether I do or don't mind
