"Blues Come Walkin' In"

One night, blues came knokin' upon my door
One night, blues came knokin' upon my door
Wearin' high heel shoes and a red dress
But's it's a devil in angel's clothes

From that time on I ain't never been the same
From that time on I ain't never been the same
I didn't know that one woman could give one man such grief and pain

Next time she comes around i'll try not to let her in Next time she comes around i'll try not to let her in
I hear a knock upon my door
Lord the blues comes walkin' in .
