New Orleans ladies, sassy style will drive u crazy
And they hold you like the light hugs the wick of a candle burning
Them creole babies oh their thin and brown and downright lazy
And they roll just like the river
A little wave will last forever
All the way from burbon street to esplanade
They sashay by
they sashay by

New Orleans ladies a flair of light of love and laughter
And they hold you like the night holds the chill when a cold winds blowing
Them creole babies they strut and sway from dust till dawn
And they roll just like the river
A little wave will last forever
All the way from burbon street to esplanade
They sashay by
They sashay by

All the way from burbon street to esplanade
They sashay by
They sashay by
