Jill:I see your true colors shining through I see your true colors and thats why i love you

I see you true colors shining throughi see your true colors and thats why i love you...

Fredro:Yo father forgive we all trying to survive where we live

Id rather feed the homeless and take time talk to the kids show them that life aint no walk on the bridge damn as hard as it is when i be dreaming i be talkin to big in my hood it aint no yellow brick road you hear the shots echo sneakers hanging from the telephone poll in my ghetto there aint no pots of gold but there was love from the famly when times were cold i sit an analyze the world from my roof seen hope in the eyes of a troubled youth good killa kept a burnin in his bubble goose a motherless child lost in the streets lose in the murder daysthes are rainydays my man got popped at an early age his colage fund saved flipped into his grave they say the good die young were headed for them pearly gates

Jill:I see your true colors sining through I see your true colors and thats why i love you i see your true colors shining through i see your true colors and thst why i love you...

Fredro:yo they say this love wasnt meant to be two people from 2 different worlds we wasnt meant to be it must have been fate you were sent to me will make it through these hard times eventually the standerd fight brought faith but not by sight we all the same colors when you turn out the lights i'll take the sunshine with the pain grab my sara gone sad that when it rains no french kept the food on the window pain we all breathe the same air so we all the same im trapped in this ghetto maze trying to make it out you dont know me so dont judge me what you talkin about i am dividable by broken dreams single moms you my hereos you my queens to get my mom out the hood thats my hopes and dreams to teach my son to be a solja by any means jill:I see your true colors sining tthoug i see your true colors and thats why i love you i see your true colors shining through i see your true colors and thats why i love you
