"Set To Fade"

I don't want deception, had enough of that before
And I don't need protection, I'll find my own way around
But thank you so much for your concern
You live, you breathe and I'll learn

Surrender the game
Your tactics are known
Just surrender the game you big pretender
You big pretender

Your charming smile is bloodless, I can handle this and more
Fast as you dream pretences, I'll bring them crumbling down
But thank you so much for your concern
You fake, you scheme and I'll learn

Surrender the game
Your tactics are known
Just surrender the game you big pretender
You big pretender

My weapon is levelled and set to fade
And while I scan the surroundings, it's set to fade
Let this serve as your warning
Your game is played out
I'll just, I'll just fade you out
I'll just fade you out
Fade you out
I'll just fade you out

Now I have turned the tables, failure never tasted sweet
The pride that's yours to swallow, will choke you in defeat
But thank you so much for your concern
You break, you bleed and I'll learn

Surrender the game
Your tactics are known

And just surrender the game you big pretender
You big pretender

My weapon is levelled and set to fade
And while I scan the surroundings it's set to fade
And let this serve as your warning, your game is played out
I'll just, I'll just fade you out
I'll just fade you out
I'll just fade you out

I'm gonna fade you out yeah
I'm gonna fade you out yeah
I'm gonna fade you out yeah

I'll just fade you out
I'll just fade you out
I'll just fade you out
